13. My overall evaluation of this instructor is....
...he's one of my favorite members of the American Studies department. I hope he becomes a professor at UH afterwards.
Professor Llorca is a great teacher and mentor. He was passionate about the material and inspired us to become better at being critical thinkers. He is by far one of the best professors and teachers that I have had in college. I was so fortunate to be in his class!!!
Very knowledgeable and passionate about the content of the class. Lecture was always interesting and I learned so much.
Miguel is a wonderful lecturer. He has a passion for teacher, and loves what his teaching.

14. Assignments are interesting and stimulating.

15. Which aspects of the course did you like the best?

Miguel's lectures were amazing. I learned so much. Also, the videos--he made us watch the most amazing and interesting videos.

One of the things I liked the best was that it was well organized. I make this my first point because so many classes are not. In addition, I liked how he engaged the entire class in the conversations and encouraged everyone to express their feelings. He was respectful of all opinions even though some had opinions that were different than his. I also liked how he gave us choices when it came to our assignments as we were working on such controversial subjects and the range of topics impacted us all in such different ways. Some students really challenged him but he maintained extreme professionalism. It was obvious that he enjoyed his job and it wasn't a 9-5 ordeal.

I enjoyed class discussions.

the field trip to Pearl harbor and watching clips in class. Also the course is only 10 weeks so its great!

16. Which aspects of the course did you like least?

The timing. It was too late for my liking, but it was worth it.

That it had to come to an end. I wish Professor Llorca taught more classes.

non

The class period is too long. Also, although the course itself is about the second world war, it provides less emphasis on the real pacific, excluding Hawaii. And that is where most of the fighting were in. Take for example Guadalcanal and other places in Micronesia. Need to balance things rather than focusing so much on south east Asia.

17. My overall evaluation of this course is...

...anyone who's even remotely interested in WWII should take this course. It's worth it.

A++, on a scale of 1-10....This class was a 20

Fantastic learning experience. I would highly recommend this course and the professor to others this course is a great course. It offers a wealth of information about the second world war.

18. Other comments:

Professor Llorca showed genuine and sincere concern for the class as a whole and as individuals. He challenged us and truly brought out things in us that we never realized were there. He taught us about American Studies but he went above and beyond by inviting us to seminars, and encouraged us to explore the possibilities of having a degree in American Studies. He also went out of his way to coordinate a trip to Pearl Harbor and the Arizona Memorial. I couldn't make it, but it was something that he did and I give him credit for doing it. It was such a complete and fulfilling experience.

Good course, and i think i like it.
